

Devoteam earns Microsoft Adoption & Change Management Advanced Specialization.

Devoteam Luxembourg is honored in April 2021 by Microsoft with an advanced specialization for their Adoption and Change Management expertise. Since more than a decade Devoteam has been accompanying international clients from all sectors in their digital transformation journey and supported them to successfully drive and adopt change in their organizations.

As a major player of digital transformation in the Grand-Duchy, Devoteam Luxembourg helps clients from all industries to realize better change since 1995. Through a deep understanding of the technical and human challenges accompanying change they have times and times again guaranteed a successful adoption of new technologies but also a shift in mindset.

Today Devoteam is proud to be recognized for their expertise by Microsoft's Advanced Specialization in Adoption and Change Management. A specialization that is granted only to Microsoft partners who demonstrate ample knowledge, extensive experience and proven success in driving Microsoft 365 usage and organizational change by providing adoption and change management services to their customers.

Some of the areas of expertise covered by this specialization are:

- Alignment to accredited change management methodologies.
- Capability to measure and drive increased adoption to meet the customer's business priorities.
- Building an adoption and change management strategy and implementation plan.
- Anticipating and dealing with areas of resistance.

“End user adoption is the key to success of all digitalization strategies and our customers want to work with organizations that have a proven track record of deep knowledge in change management. Being honored with this advanced specialization demonstrates and emphasizes our extensive skills and experience to generate optimum ROI accross new technologies.
